

Intentionally cutting fiber optic cables

An internet outage across large parts of Long Beach was caused by someone who intentionally cut fiber optic lines "in a criminal act of vandalism," ...

Spartanburg County deputies are searching for a vandal who cut fiber optic lines Sunday morning.

Spectrum is offering $25,000 for information leading to the arrest of a suspect accused of cutting and damaging cable lines in Spartanburg County.

An internet outage across large parts of Long Beach was caused by someone who intentionally cut fiber optic lines "in a criminal act of vandalism," according to a spokesperson for ...

Customers had internet outages Sunday from Pinehurst to Carthage after the Moore County Sheriff's Office said someone intentionally cut fiber optic lines in two places.

Spectrum Fiber optic cables intentionally cut in North Carolina, causing an outage. The Moore County sheriff's office reports that someone climbed the utility pole and cut the lines in two ...

A reward of up to $25,000 is being offered by cable and internet provider Spectrum to help catch whomever was responsible for cutting one of their fiber optic lines Saturday. The line is believed ...

THE SHERIFF'S OFFICE IS INVESTIGATING THE POSSIBILITY THAT A SPECTRUM FIBER-OPTIC CABLE WAS INTENTIONALLY CUT OVER THE WEEKEND.

Violent extremists in France caused massive disruptions to telecommunications by targeting primary fiber optic cables in several regions. In Germany, travelers were left stranded after ...

A spokesperson for the company told Fox News Digital that they discovered that lines had been cut due to vandalism in Van Nuys on Sunday morning, which also impacted other areas. ...

Authorities in Spartanburg County, South Carolina, are investigating a deliberate act of vandalism after a fiber-optic cable was intentionally cut, causing

Intentionally cutting fiber optic cables

Web: <https://maxtools.co.za>

